This one day course is designed for choral conductors with some conducting experience, so we anticipate that participants will be music students, aspiring and emerging professionals, music teachers or those with similar skill sets.

The workshop will focus on improving gestural language, rehearsal technique and responsive listening skills. Over 18s only.

Participants will be asked to select what they'd like to work on from a repertoire list to be provided.

The schedule will include a three-hour morning session, in which participants will conduct and workshop the selected repertoire with Hilary and Richard, followed by a three-hour afternoon session with the combined forces of around 100 singers, culminating in a short, informal performance.
